

We are looking for an In-House Legal Counsel

At Evosep you are encouraged to develop your skills, challenge status quo, and try out those great ideas of yours. Our company is growing profitably, and we are in search of talented and curious minds for the journey. Want to join?

We are looking for an In-House Legal Counsel to look after all legal aspects of our business. Your main tasks will be to ensure that our collaboration agreements and supplier contracts make sense, that we treat stakeholders and employees equitably, that Evosep follows the law of the land, and that we in general manage the company responsibly.

Responsibilities

- You will give accurate and timely counsel on a variety of legal topics (intellectual property law, partnerships, trade agreements, labour law etc.)
- You will research and evaluate different risk factors regarding business decisions and operations
- You will apply effective risk management techniques and offer proactive advice on possible legal issues
- You will draft and solidify agreements, contracts, and other legal documents to ensure the company's full legal rights
- You will provide clarification on legal language or specifications to everyone in the organization
- You will be the primary point of contact for our external legal counsel

Qualifications

- You have a Danish master's degree in Law or Business Law
- You have proven experience from a law firm or from an in-house legal position.
- You have excellent knowledge and understanding of corporate law and intellectual property law
- You have sound judgement and the ability to analyse situations and information
- You are professionally fluent in both Danish and English
- You possess a great amount of integrity and sense of responsibility
- You have great communication skills

What we offer

- A competitive salary, lunch arrangement and flexible work hours
- A growing team of currently 40 passionate colleagues, who are all working to improve quality of life and patient care through precision medicine. You get to contribute to this significant medical revolution and be a part of an innovative and collaborative culture in a fast-moving industry

- A work environment where freedom under responsibility is key. We expect you to be dedicated and deliver results, and in return you will have great flexibility to schedule your work and optimize your work-life balance
- The possibility to join a rapidly growing company where we all are continuously learning as we face new challenges
- An encouraging and informal tone, both internally and when working with our customers and partners. You can go a long way with constructive communication
- New, modern office facilities in Odense

We are not perfect (and neither are you) but we enjoy the quest for high performance (and so should you).
